Marc O'Heartman feat. Robert Ruddock Caravan of Love

Let's spread the words of LOVE

In times when the world seems so divided that it is almost unbearable, Marc O'Heartman remembers a song from his youth: "Caravan of Love".

"Caravan of Love" was written by Chris Jasper (Christopher H. Jasper), the creative genius of the hit trio Isley-Jasper-Isley. Chris Jasper also sang the original version of the song, which reached # 1 on the US Billboard Hot R&B chart in 1985. A year later, the British indie band "The Housemartins" made it to number 1 on the UK Singles Chart with their a capella version of "Caravan of Love".

Together with his friend, British singer Robert Ruddock, Marc O'Heartman brings the humanistic spirit of "Caravan of Love" back to life - in a beautiful and powerful re-arrangement.

Marc O'Heartman is the musical alter ego of Dr. Marco R., a Medical Doctor from Germany. Marc uses psychotherapy to help people cope with, and overcome, difficult situations in their lives. The knowledge and humanity that Marco experiences through his work with his patients has its outlet in his songs. The sometimes difficult conversations he has had are processed through verses about life and meaning, with the aim, as with his work, of shining a light upon the chances for hope, positivity, and enriching moments.

With "Caravan of Love" Marc would like to set an example for brotherhood and charity.
